when a woman miscarries she is typically emotionally raw, and having to contend with the notion that she did something "wrong" is typically not beneficial.

because patients that meet criteria for brain death are legally dead, they are appropriate organ and tissue donors.

augmentation, always keeping my hair feeling moisturized, but not soaking wet like it and waited another